Plaintiff, Nathan Darrell Neighbors, who is incarcerated in a facility with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, filed the instant complaint pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983, naming as defendant Ralph Myer.<sup>1</sup> Plaintiff did not pay the filing fee, but in conjunction with his complaint filed a Prisoner Trust Fund Account Statement. The United States Magistrate Judge considered the trust fund account statement to determine plaintiff's qualification to proceed in forma pauperis.

In an order signed July 26, 2013, the magistrate judge determined that plaintiff has had three previous cases dismissed as frivolous and recommended that plaintiff not be allowed to proceed in forma pauperis in this action. The magistrate judge further recommended that if plaintiff was not permitted to proceed in forma pauperis, that he also be ordered to pay the full filing fee of $400.00 within seven days after this court made any final determinations concerning plaintiff's in forma pauperis status. The magistrate judge further recommended this court advise plaintiff that failure to pay the filing fee could result in the dismissal of this action without further notice for want of prosecution pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.<sup>2</sup> The magistrate judge ordered that plaintiff file any objections by August 16, 2013. On August 16, 2013, plaintiff filed a document entitled "Notice of Right to Object Proposed Findings," ("Objections"), which the court is construing as plaintiff's objections to the magistrate judge's recommendations.

In accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1) and Rule 72 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the court makes a de novo determination of the magistrate judge's order to which specific objection is made. United States v. Raddatz, 447 U.S. 667, 673-75 (1980). The majority of the Objections appears to expand on <sup>2</sup>Rule 41(b) contemplates that a dismissal under it will be on motion of a defendant. However, the court has inherent authority to dismiss, sua sponte, an action for want of prosecution. See Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 630 (1962); Jones v. Caddo Parish Sch. Bd., 704 F.2d 206, 214 (5th Cir. 1983).

plaintiff's claims in his complaint.<sup>3</sup> Plaintiff makes no specific objections to the magistrate judge's order, but only alleges that he is in "imminent danger" and that his "life is on the line" and he "could get kill [sic] at imminent time or get serious physical injury." Objections at 2.<sup>4</sup> However, plaintiff offers no facts to support these conclusory assertions either in the Objections or the complaint. The court therefore overrules plaintiff's objections and accepts the magistrate judge's recommendation that plaintiff be denied the right to proceed in forma pauperis in this action.

Therefore,

The court accepts the recommendations of the United States Magistrate Judge and ORDERS that plaintiff be, and is hereby, denied the right to proceed in forma pauperis in this action.

The court further ORDERS that by 4:00 p.m. on August 26, 2013, plaintiff pay to the Clerk of the court the full filing fee of $400.00.

The court further ORDERS that failure of plaintiff to comply with the terms of this order may result in the dismissal of this action without further notice pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the

<sup>3</sup>The complaint and the subjects raised in the Objections appear to challenge plaintiff's 2003 conviction in his state criminal case.

<sup>4</sup>These statements were likely in response to the note in the magistrate judge's order that plaintiff may not proceed in forma pauperis unless he is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.
